

Photo copyright

The images may be used solely in presentations of the Vogelsberg region for the purposes of tourism. In such cases, their use is free of charge. For commercial use of the images, the permission of the photographer / Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH (Vogelsberg Tourist Authority) must be sought. Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH, and any collaborating photographers, who provide photographs for the image database, hold the exclusive and unrestricted usage rights to the images on this website. The ownership of the photographic material remains exclusively theirs for an unlimited period. When publishing any of these images, users must undertake to include, in an appropriate place, the following reference to the source: "Photograph, courtesy of tourist organisation." Neither the company (Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH), nor the holders of copyright or user rights whom they represent, shall be liable in any way, if any person who appears in the images disputes the publication of the picture in any particular context. The company (Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH) shall not be liable in any way, if anyone to whom they have made the images available for advertising purposes, disputes the publication in any particular context. Users shall exonerate the company from all possible claims by third parties. Where images have been used without appropriate agreement, the user shall be under an obligation to compensate Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH. Payment of compensation shall not secure for the user any additional user rights to the images. Federal German law shall apply to all contractual relations between users and Region Vogelsberg Touristik GmbH that arise from of this agreement.